THE PLOT

Transcovia is a tiny new European country, recently recognised as an independent democratic state by the EU, UK and USA. It gained its independence 2 years ago. This is the first visit of Count Klaus von Menninger's the Transcovian Prime minister to Britain since the recent independence, when he was elected on a landslide.

The PM's family will be here on sufferance. The PM wants Transcovia to become a full member of the EU, but many people are against this and believe Transcovia should remain separate.

You are formerly invited for dinner with the Prime Minister and in the dress codes are dinner suits, long gowns or black tie although this is not compulsory and the prime minister will happily welcome you in jeans and t shirt!

Bring a note pad and a pen with you to jot down everything you hear. Interrogate the suspects. They may have something to hide.

For those of you attending as dedicated sleuths, remember, this is not a time for true British reserve, do not be frightened or delicate about asking those awkward questions. All the participants have a story to unfold and they cannot do that without you. Listen carefully to what the suspects are saying to each other.

Watch for any hidden facial expression that may give away a guilty secret.

Be suspicious and trust your instincts.

Above all, stay alert and keep your eyes and ears open. Trust no one. The person sitting next to you may be a murderer.
